

Do you know an older immigrant who wants to learn English?

The Jones Library can help!

We have a free class for newcomers who are:

- Over 50
- Permanent residents
- At a low-beginning level (including those with limited formal education)

The class provides a friendly, low-stress learning environment, with emphasis on:

- practical speaking skills (for example, about daily routines, family, health & safety)
- basic literacy (for example, learning letter names & reading simple vocabulary words)
- easy citizenship test questions
- getting to know the local community
- social expressions/customs (for example, greetings, holidays)
- enjoying time with new friends

For more information, or to refer a student, contact Lynne Weintraub, ESL Coordinator, at esl@joneslibrary.org or 413-259-3093.

This project is supported by the US Department of Homeland Security.
